Index Fossils

The best type of index fossils are usually those of swimming or floating organisms that evolved quickly (and therefore existed only briefly) and were widely distributed different geographic areas. Ammonites (marine mollusks) and trilobites (marine arthropods) are good index fossils.

← Trilobite Fossil

